ISO 9001:2015
Management Transition

With the release of the new ISO 9001:2015 Standard, companies are faced with the task of transitioning their existing Quality Management System. This 3-hour course will inform organizational management, including owners; executive leaders; department managers; management representatives; internal ISO auditors; and process owners, how ISO 9001:2015 will impact their current Quality Management System (QMS). It will stress the requirements of ISO 9001:2015 and what changes they might need to make as a result of the transition. This course will assist in developing an effective transition plan.
