

Courageous Leadership:

*Inspiring Your Team
During Times of Crisis*

Never before has the role of leadership been more critical to creating excellent outcomes, driving results and engaging your workforce. The COVID-19 pandemic has provided an opportunity for organizations to re-imagine new ways to operate and to redesign work practices that safely optimize performance. This webinar highlights the results that Chip Madera has helped many organizations achieve through the years and his strategies for accelerating employee engagement and ultimately producing world-class results.

Leaders will explore the beliefs, behaviors and actions needed to inspire and engage others in your mission, vision and values and help accelerate results and increase performance and workplace well-ness. Learn details about these critical roles leaders must master to accelerate excellence, foster change and maximize performance during times of crisis:

- Keeper of the Culture
- Change Agent
- People Developer
